Scientifically.

Local Items.

On March 1st.

On March 1, we have to cut off all names of subscribers who are as much as one year in arrears. Uncle Sam has issued his orders, and when he fiddles we must dance.

A Central Kentucky Base Ball League has been organized composed of the following towns: Lexington, Frankfort, Shelbyville, Versailles, Lawrenceburg and Richmond.

Communion Services.

The celebration of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. The usual preliminary, or preparatory services will be held on this (Friday) evening at 7:15 o'clock.

Will Locate in California.

Stanford Journal:—The firm of J R Harris & Co, which had fine patronage at Turnersville, will be no more after April 1. Messrs J R Harris and John F Cash, who compose it, have sold the stock to Lutes Bros, and they will greatly increase the stock when they take charge. Mr Harris will likely locate in California.

The large stock barn of J E Hammond on Flat Lick pike, was blown down a few nights ago, and on the same night the residence of Mrs Sallie F Pence, known as the Andy Rice place suffered a considerable loss by fire, both were insured in the Continental, and a prompt and satisfactory settlement was made through their agent, Ed C Gaines.

Death of Former Lancaster Man.

The Rolla (Mo.) Herald-Democrat tells of the death, in that city, of Capt C R Millard, which occurred on the 2nd. Capt Millard resided in Lancaster for many years, being engaged in the dry goods and clothing business. He was born in Tennessee and served in the Confederate army. He moved to Parsons, Kas. in 1876, where he was engaged in business for some years. Capt Millard was a very popular man in Lancaster, and had many friends among the older citizens who will regret to hear of his death.

The Electric Theatre.

The electric theatre, in the Sweeney store room, is delighting large crowds and proving the source of much pleasure and amusement to the people. The moving pictures are as good as can be seen in any of the large cities, and, with the complete change of program each night, gives much pleasure to our people. A small admission fee—only a dime—is charged. These entertainments will be given every Friday and Saturday night. The machine is owned by Messrs G M Patterson and Alex Walker, two of our enterprising citizens. This is one of the most wonderful inventions of the age, and you should not fail to see it.

The Weather.

If anyone ever experienced more disagreeable weather than the people of Central Kentucky have been up against for the past few weeks, he should hold his tongue, for should he begin to tell of anything more objectionable, he would at once be classed like a fisherman, a Sunday-only Christian or a practical politician. We have had snow, biting winds, and an occasional smile from Old Sol, the whole being cut up into small bits about the size of the ingredients of boarding house hash. One day, a fellow can get out without his overcoat, while the next morning the wind will be as cold as a step-mother's heart. Kentucky may be the "garden spot" of the world in many respects, but, with all due love to our mother state, excuse us on the climate. We get both extremes—as cold as charity in winter and as hot as the money-lover's final resting-place in summer.

Muddy Streets, Dirty Pavements.

The mud on the streets and pavements has been worse this winter than ever before. This is attributable to the fact that good rock can not be obtained, and that used on the streets has been of a soft quality that grinds into a powder when run over by heavy wagons. This same trouble exists in all Kentucky towns, as it seems impossible to get rock hard enough to stand the wear and tear. Some people say the rock used in bygone days withstood the wear, but these wiseacres must stop and remember the fact that every class of vehicle used today is from twice to three times as heavy as those used some years ago. Fault is not so much with the rock as heavy class of wagons hauled over it. Then, again, there is twice as much hauling today as was done fifteen or twenty years ago. Another cause of the mud and dirt is from the use of machinery to break or, more properly speaking, "crushing" the stone. The "crusher" crushes all right, but the people get the dust and dirt caused by the "crushing." The Record would suggest that criminals be made to break rock in the old-time manner—thus placing good rock on the high ways and serving as a warning to those inclined to violate the laws of the land.

I have Clover, Timothy and Blue Grass seed. Also Northern Seed Oats. Banks Hudson.

The Best of Literature.

I am prepared to order any magazine or other publication, on the very shortest notice, and can save you both time and money on same. Call at store of Joseph Mercantile Co. Will appreciate your orders. Mrs Dollie Brown.

Coming.

The last and most popular attraction of the season will be given, by W C T U., at the Court House on Friday night March 6th. Reserved seats 50c, at McRoberts Drug store, General admission 35c, children 25c. This entertainment has been produced over 3,000 times in Europe and America, and the press is replete with notices that prove it to be a splendid attraction and full of humor, music and pathos. Don't miss it.

Best show of the season at Court House Friday night March 6.

Farm and Stock.

Reports say there were 87,716 hogs on the Chicago market last Monday, the heaviest run on record.

H A Yokely, of Giles county sold at Columbia, Tenn, a fine pair of coming 3-year-old mules at the good price of $415 and an extra good 4 year old at $250. He also bought about twelve mules at satisfactory prices.

A W Pedigo, of Glasgow, bought one mare mule from Arthur Taylor, of Columbia, at $80, and one cotton mule from William Hatcher at $125. Graner Grissom sold to Sam Barber four horse mules, 154 hands, five years old, for $600. Allen Walker bought one pair 4 year-old mare mules of Robt Simpson, of Elroy, at $300.

An educational train is touring Georgia in the interest of better farming and of Agricultural Education. The train is being operated jointly by the Georgia State College and the railroads of the State. The itinerary will cover about 3,000 miles and will occupy about a month's time.

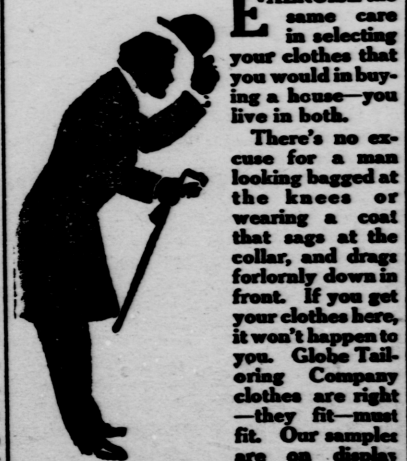

That hemp will feature strongly in the crops raised in 1908 seems assured from the large acreage now being leased for the growing of that commodity. Next to tobacco, and almost on a par with it, hemp is regarded as a "money crop." Now that there will be curtailing, if not a complete omission of tobacco from products, many farmers who formerly depended upon it for their main crop, look forward to the fibrous plant for this year.

Here is the way the Dover News figures the cost of tobacco production: We have the figures at this office showing what it costs to raise five acres of tobacco. The figures were made by one who is supposed to know. According to these figures it costs a tenant $278.90 to plant, cultivate and market a crop of 5,000 pounds. If this should be sold at ten cents a pound the tenant would receive for his one half of the crop $250. By the time landlord figures the interest on his money, repairs to his barns, taxes, exhaustion of land, etc, a good sized hole will be knocked in his wad.

Farmers Home Journal, Louisville:—Total sales in this market last were 4,06 hhds, against 3,369 hhds. sold in corresponding week of last year. Total receipts last were 1,925 hhds. against 2,500 hhds. received on corresponding week of last year. Rejections last week were 303 hhds., 12 per cent. of the auction sales. Against 11 per cent. for the preceding week. Of the total sales 2,055 hhds. were Burley and 1,971 hhds. were Dark tobacco. The warm, soft weather this week has caused an increase in receipts and offerings. Thursday's break contained 1,041 hhds, all Burley except 36 hhds. The State House sold a crop of 15 hogsheds Shelby county Burley, which made an average of 8 hogsheds Washington county, which average $14.75.

Tobacco Growers, Attention!

Having been asked several times the question, "will you insure tobacco for me this year? I want to state that so long as the condition remains as it is now in Garrard county, I will, but only for those who place their entire property in the company they ask to carry the hazardous part of their risk, for it is hardly fair to ask one Company to take the worst part of the risk or that which some other agent can handle. Assuring all my patrons who want to have their tobacco insured, I am willing to protect them J H Kinnard, Agent.

"Boost the Booster!"

That's the official slogan of a certain town in Arkansas which through boosting itself and boosting its boosters has doubled its population since the 1900 census.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!
The Arkansas town had been quarreling among itself for years, and standing still. It had boosters, but it had others who refused to boost the boosters, refused to stand by them and yell, "Good boy--keep it up!"

BOOST THE BOOSTER!
Finally the town got together with itself, organized a "Boost the Booster Club" and began to boom. Now its principal thoroughfare, which was a streak of mud, is a stretch of asphalt, and it has new buildings to match. Now everybody boosts the booster and booms the boom.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!
This town might take a hint from that one. We have our town boosters--every town has some. But sometimes they get discouraged because of opposition right here in our midst.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!
Cut out the criticism!
Quit the queering!
Boom the Boom!
Then watch the old town perk up and plunge forward. You can see it move.

WHEN YOU BOOST THE BOOSTER YOU BOOM THE BOOM.

The fascinating charms of St Valentine's day were emphasized in the card party at the home of the Misses Mount. The invitations were quite unique, being in rhyme and ornamented with small red hearts caught in spider web. The house was elaborately decorated in crimson carnations and hearts, hundreds of them being used in festoons in the rooms, and the house brilliantly lighted by candles with crimson shades. At eleven o'clock a two course lunch was served, consisting of lettuce sandwich, stuffed mangoes, beaten biscuit, French green peas and mushrooms in timbale shells, pickles, coffee and cheese straws, each plate bearing a crimson carnation. Prizes were then awarded, Miss Annell Tomlinson being fortunate winner of ladies prize, a pair of silk hose, and Mr W B Burton the gentleman's prize, a pair of gentleman's silk hose. Mr Herbert Kinnaird was given the booby, a large crimson sachet paper heart pierced with a cupid's dart. Just before the lights went out "Twenty old maids, acme younger, some older, each lugged an old bachelor home on her shoulder." The response of 30 guests made the affair very gay and enjoyable. Misses Mount's unusual gifts as hostesses draw around them ever a charmed circle.

Lancaster friends received the following invitations.

A FINE COUNTRY

In renewing her subscription to the Central Record, Mrs Belle Scott, who has many friends here, writes as follows:

Since the general Government has constituted itself deputy collector for periodical publications, and placed a penalty on "forget," here is my check for arrears and respite small for the future, for of all things earthly we have the finest in Phoenix, but we insist on having the Central Record as a weekly desert from home. Of all the Garrard county colony who located in this valley thirteen years ago, my husband and I are the only ones remaining, but there are many Kentuckians here who are prosperous and much respected, who, like ourselves, are content, knowing no better country to go to. Our almond trees are in bloom and the Jack Rabbits hide in the alfalfa, wheat, and oats. Cantaloup planting will be on in a short time. Our oranges and lemons are all gathered and marketed at fancy prices, the California crop is only now ripe. Our banks and trust companies have now ceased paying cash and our people don't know what "script" looks like. The big dam, at Roosevelt, is under way and land values, under our canal system, are advancing every day. Our city is full of Eastern tourists. We are having copious rains, and there is absolutely nothing to complain of. With kindest regards to all old friends, Mrs A. G. Scott.

Many Sleepless Nights, Owing to a Persistent Cough. Relief Found at Last.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J Hayner editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by F P Frisbie. 1m

OSTEOPATHY

Nothing tells like truth and facts. Osteopathy sustains its claims with such an array of facts that it bewilders the scoffer, convinces the skeptic. It is not empiricism; it is science, it is success and thousands bear testimony that it has been the means of their recovery after exhausting every other known remedy. The tendency of the age is against drugs, people are striving for something better and it is being demonstrated to them daily that Osteopathy is sound in principle, unharmed in action, liberates the life forces of nature utilizes them against the ravages of disease and thus restores to health multitudes of so-called "incurable." Thousands of chronic cases have exhausted the treatment of waning Medical school with out success. They have swallowed noxious mixtures for years in vain quest of health, and, as a last resort they appealed to Osteopathy and often find full and permanent relief. To relieve these hardest types of chronic cases requires the most persistent, painstaking services of a skilled Osteopath, he makes strenuous physical exertion often when already fatigued puts himself in the work and gives that which is beyond price of a personal gratitude, an obligation which money alone can not repay, hence a strong bond of friendship is formed between the healer and healed, and it proves of lasting value to both. The Osteopath is differently situated from the medical practitioner, who simply feels the pulse, asked questions, wrote a prescription and failed to sub due the malady. Everybody knows what allopathy and homeopathy mean, but not nearly everybody knows what osteopathy means; it is yet new and these enthusiastic patients exhilarated with regained health, feel that they can in no way better offset their debt of gratitude to their doctor and perform their full duty to suffering humanity than to spread broad-cast the news that there exists a complete and effectual system of treating all curable diseases without drugs or knife, that it is not christian science, rubbing or scientific massage, but genuine osteopathy. This appreciation from great hearts works wonders: it brings new patients; sweeps the profession in a decade from one practitioner to thousands; gains favorable legislation and recognition, as a distinct system of healing, in over one half of the states; places our student body ahead of all other schools in numbers, except the allopathic school. Great are the results, they are the means of this unprejudiced growth, our most potent weapon with which future battles will be fought and won. Osteopathy does not injure. Drugs are foreign to the system and are always injurious even in those cases where there is real or apparent benefit. Osteopathy does not impose burdens on the stomach in order to relieve a pain in the foot. It does not fill the blood with toxins in order to relieve a congestion in the head, it does not burden the excretory organs in order to bring about a normal metabolism of the tissues. It removes obstructions and sets the machinery of life in motion and nature does the rest. The wise and conscientious physician uses drugs sparingly, but many people demand drugs, they expect drugs of their physicians, they would be disappointed if they did not receive drugs and they generally get what they expect, even the family physician is not always a saint: But there are many physicians who have been trained to give drugs and who believe in drugs and of course they give drugs whether desired or not. We say a tendency on the part of physicians is against drug giving, at least the tendency is to the recognition of the futility of drugs and yet drug giving is their business and it is perhaps not exaggerating to say that the majority of physicians use drugs, and use them freely in their practice. In deed, what else would they prescribe? It would be a little difficult for us to imagine the formula of a physician's prescription if the drugs were omitted. The Latin terms for fresh air, sun shine, bathing, exercise, pure water, massage, etc., would look a little odd in the regulation prescription. The druggist might be a little embarrassed in collecting his fees, and as the physician does not himself administer manipulation there would not be much left for him to do. So of course the only thing that is left for the drug physician is to administer drugs. The people are learning what the doctors have long since learned, that there is not so much in drugs after all.

Itch In The Skin, Not In The Blood.

People with Eczema, etc., Make Grievous Error by Taking Medicine into the Stomach.

When your hand is scalded with hot water until it blisters and burns, you don't drink medicine to cure it. You apply a healing lotion to the injured skin.

Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barber's itch and other such diseases of the skin cannot be cured by filling the stomach with medicine any more than you can cure a burn by drinking medicine. To cure these diseases you must apply the remedy on the part affected. The diseases named are caused by germs in the skin. Kill the germs and the disease goes away and the skin is left pure and white as nature intended it to be.

That mild, simple liquid, oil of winter green, properly compounded in D D D Prescription routs the germs and heals the skin so perfectly that you can never tell where the disease was.

"No tongue can tell nor pen portray what I suffered for ten years from Eczema," writes Mrs R R Latta of Garrison, Mo. "I was treated by the best doctors in the west, but received no benefit. Three bottles of D D D cured me sound and well. Six or eight months have passed and there is no sign of a return. My advice to all is, don't delay. Begin the use of D D D at once and be cured."

We have carried D D D for a long time because we know it takes away the itch and we believe it to be an infallible remedy in the treatment of Eczema and other skin diseases.

AS OTHERS THINK

Everyone in This Town Has a Right to His Own Opinion.

While everyone has a right to his own opinion, yet it is wise to always consider what others think and profit by their experience.

Nothing makes life so miserable, or interferes so widely with the usefulness of the average American, as indigestion, and it is well for us to give fair consideration to what others think about this remarkable affliction.

Our leading druggists are positive that in Mi-o-na stomach tablets they have an absolute cure for indigestion and the many disagreeable symptoms that follow this disease, such as distress after eating, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, flatulence, nervousness and debility.

Their action in selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money unless it cures, shows plainly their belief in the value of this remedy. They take all the risk, and there will be no charge whatever for Mi-o-na unless you are satisfied that it has relieved you of indigestion.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain in the head, is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That pink tablet is Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. It coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. It is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently though surely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. It's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are restless, nervous, it's blood pressure—blood pressure. That sure is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 30 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Brush your finger. It doesn't get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain always. It's simply common sense. We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Feet Swelled From Frightful Eczema

Could Not Wear Shoes—Cured by

D. D. D. Prescription

Read This Letter From a Columbus, Ohio Business Man.

Gentlemen: For several years I was a sufferer from Eczema. The affliction affecting my hands, arms and feet. At times my feet became so swollen that I could not wear my shoes, while the constant itching of the eruption on my hands and arms became almost unbearable. Upon the recommendation of another such sufferer as myself, I began the use of D. D. D., and it gave me immediate relief. I have now fully recovered from my ailment, and I give D. D. D. the credit for affecting what is to me and my friends, a marvelous cure.

Truly yours, GUY J. GOBLE.

Don't be fooled into thinking that skin troubles comes from blood impurities, and don't ruin your stomach with purges and blood remedies. Eczema and all skin diseases are caused by little germs that attack the skin externally. D. D. D. Prescription kills these germs and leaves the skin clear, soft and healthy. Its work seems almost miraculous. If you are skeptical go to the druggist whose name appears below and he will show you photos and proofs positive that D. D. D. will actually cure any and all skin diseases.

WAS GIVEN UP TO DIE.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured."
